Mrs. C. Engle
Honor Guest
At TV Tea

Mrs. Clair Engle is to be guest of honor at a "Tea for TV," announced Mrs. Edward Armstrong, president of the Democratic Women's Society of South Bay. The affair will be held Tuesday, March 6, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Hall, 624 Calle Miramar, Hollywood Riviera, at 2 p.m.

Also present as honored guests will be Mrs. Carmen Wharschaw, chairman of the Women's Division of the California State Central Democratic Committee; Trudy Owens, president of the Democratic Women's Forum of Los Angeles, and Rae Wyman.

This will be the kickoff for a series of "Teas for TV" to raise money for the television appearance of Democratic candidates during the coming election year.

An invitation is extended to all to attend the tea. This will be an opportunity to become better informed about the Democratic candidates and their platforms.

Missionary
To Address
WMS Mar. 15

Miss Marion Beebe, American Baptist missionary in Burma, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Women's Mission Society on Thursday, March 15, at 10:30 at the First Baptist Church. Miss Beebe was appointed by the Women's American Baptist Foreign Mission Society in 1913 and she retired in May 1961.

During her career she taught at Scaw Karen School in Hezeda, Burma, and at the Karen Women's Bible School. Upon evacuation from Burma in 1941 she went to Balasore Orissa, India, where she taught in a girls' high school. After the war, she continued her work at the Karen Bible School in Burma as principal. She has assisted with the publication of the magazine, "The Christian Home" and has served as associate mission secretary of the Burma Baptist convention.

The Mission society is honoring the 150th anniversary of Adoniram Judson, missionary to Burma.

Mrs. Roy Muncy, vice president, will present the program. Luncheon will be served at noon by the Dorothy Wiseman circle.

Father Visits

Mr. Eino Terrio of Virginia, Minn., has arrived for an extensive visit with his two daughters, Mrs. Charles Pernu, 22038 Ladeene Ave. and Mrs. Gordon Bailey, 20804 Tomlee Ave.

YOUR PROBLEMS
by Ann Landers

"Remove the Reserved Sign"

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 19 and life isn't worth living. Jerry and I went steady all through high school. It was real love, not the puppy variety. Then Jerry went to college. I went to work. Maybe that's where I made my big mistake. But I hated school and was relieved to be through with it. I couldn't wait to get out and make some money of my own and buy some decent clothes.

Jerry has been away at college for a year and a half now. His letter are becoming colder and colder. When he was home for Christmas I talked about marriage. He talked about the army, more school and his responsibilities to his family. We didn't have much fun. It was mostly arguing.

He has been dating society girls at school even though I have remained true to him. I am heartbroken. I know I am losing him and it's killing me. What can I do?

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS

Dear Sleepless: This is one of the big hazards of going steady all through high school. The more dependent member of the combination is especially vulnerable to heartbreak.

Face it, Chickie, Jerry's horizons have broadened and you have been left behind. Remove that "Reserved" sign from your neck (and from your heart) and make new friends. Jerry has long since done so.

Dear Ann Landers: The fellow I went with last year gave me a picture of himself in a 5 x 7 gold frame. When we broke up I packed the picture away in the attic.

Now I am going with another boy. Last week my ex-boyfriend called and said he'd like to have his gold frame back.

It so happens that my present boy friend is giving me a 5 x 7 picture of himself for my birthday and I was planning on using the other guy's frame.

My boy friend says I should give the frame back and also the picture. I am willing to return the picture but I think the frame belongs to me. Right?

Dead Sooney: You will enjoy your present boy friend's picture more in a brand new frame. Return the picture and frame intact. You are entitled to keep it but since he asked, it's the ladylike thing to do.

Dear Ann Landers: Of course I can't ask anyone I know. Please give me some help.

What should my daughter Maggie call her father's second wife? When my husband was going with this woman, he asked Maggie to call her by her first name. Now that they are married he says this is not proper. Both my former husband and his wife have asked Maggie to refer to her as "my step-mother."

In my opinion this is not only incorrect but an insult to me. After all, I am still alive and in pretty good health. Can a child have a living mother and a living step-mother also?

I say she should call this woman by her first name and refer to her as "my father's new wife." What do YOU say?

Dear Old Wife: I am not in favor of the adjective "old" OR "new" in connection with a wife. It sounds as if you're talking about a broken-down sofa.

A second wife is a step-mother to her husband's children whether his first wife is living or dead. Your daughter should refer to this woman as "step-mother."

To learn the booby-traps of teenage drinking, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teenage Drinking," enclosing with your request 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mrs. Marion Ensminger, president of the local club, will head the receiving line to greet Mrs. Richard Fraser, president, and other members of the Hawthorne club.

Serving on the luncheon committee are Mmes. John Foley, John Tweedy, Clifton McKnight and Jerome Scharfman.

Houseguests

Leaving Tuesday for their home in Eveleth, Minn., were Mr. and Mrs. Vern Maki and son, David, who had spent a week here as houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bailey, 20804 Tomlee Ave.

First Officers Named
Women Voter League
Formed in Torrance

Following six weeks of pre-organization activity, the Provisional League of Women Voters of Torrance was officially launched Monday evening at an open meeting held in the council chambers of Torrance City Hall. First major study to be undertaken by the new group will be a community analysis.

Results of the "Know Your City" study will be published at a later date. Groundwork for the community analysis was prepared during the pre-organization period by a committee headed by Mrs. Donald Brink. The committee's findings were presented at Monday night's meeting by a panel which included Mmes. Marshall Cox, Emery Reeves, C. R. Berwanger, and David Lyman.

Preceding the presentation by the panel Mrs. Melzar Jones, league advisor, explained that the group is non-partisan and encourages poli-

Begins Second Year

Victor Woman's Club
To Install Officers

Victor Woman's Club will begin its second year with an installation dinner on Monday, March 5, at 8 p.m. with Mrs. S. V. Kulp serving as installing officer. The candlelight installation ceremony will follow the dinner.

Mrs. Donald W. Walker will be endowed with the duties of president. Serving with her during the coming year will be Mrs. W. A. Pollock, first vice president; Mrs. John Galvin, second vice president; Mrs. James Bruno, third vice president; Mrs. Ivar Lundeen, treasurer; Mrs. Richard Champion, secretary; Mrs. William Reed, reporter; and Mrs. Donald Porter, auditor.

The Victor Woman's Club is a relative newcomer to the Torrance area. Its organization was sparked by Mrs. John Galvin, the out-going president. It began with 10 women residents of the Victor Tract and now claims a membership of almost 90. Meetings are held monthly at the Victor Elementary School. Membership is limited to women residents of the Victor Tract. Interested women are invited to contact the new membership chairman, Mrs. James Bruno.

Club members have had an active year civically and socially. They were successful in their request for stop signs at Henrietta and Edgemore. They petitioned the City of Torrance to expedite the development of the Victor Park site. Sponsoring an evening coffee for school board candidates, they endeavored to keep their residents informed. Contributions to the Parks and Recreation Commission for trees at the park and a check for needy families are listed among their philanthropic activities. A highly successful Mother-Daughter Fashion show was given and also a Christmas luncheon and bazaar was presented as a ways and means project.

Popular with club members is a couples group, composed of husbands and wives. Pool parties, a beatnik gathering, and a luau are only a few of their activities during the past year. Other interest groups which are active in the club are arts and crafts, bowling, bridge, and volleyball.

Double Birthday

Mrs. Ray Ilston of Torrance and Col. John M. McCombs were honorees at a double birthday dinner celebration at the Three Lions Restaurant, with Ray Ilston and Mr. and Mrs. John McCombs serving as hosts.

NEW LEADERS... At the organizational meeting of the Torrance League of Women Voters held at the City Hall last Monday the following officers were named to direct the activities, from left, Mmes. Albert Nadel, president; Gene Mabry, secretary; Charles K. Howey and Milton Feinberg, directors.
